

Three Major Areas Are Included In Survey for Parks

Neshaminy Creek Valley, Warner Lakes Area and Washington Crossing Site

Three major areas of lower Bucks County will be included in the survey now under way by the Bucks County Planning Commission of possible future park and recreation sites.

These areas are the Neshaminy Creek valley, the Warner Lakes area of Falls township, and the west bank of the Delaware River south of Washington Crossing Park.

Need for such planning, according to Wood, director of the commission, becomes more evident daily as former farmland is turned into industrial and residential land at a rapid pace, with comparatively few areas set aside for park facilities.

The study of the Neshaminy Creek valley, according to Wood, will deal with the portion of the stream between the Delaware river and southern Newtown township.

Roughly for the valley, a park area on both sides of the creek is pictured. This area would be preserved in its natural state at points not already used for other purposes.

The suggestion was advanced that the southern part of the creek be preserved as a boat basin. At points upstream, where feasible, the stream could be widened to allow further boat basins and swimming areas.

Investigation will be made into the possible use of the Warner Lakes area in the southern part of Falls township to determine the suitability of this use of the lakes.

Firemen Battle Grass Fire of Threatening Nature

Raging flames of a field fire that covered a half square mile of Bristol township near the 3-M airport yesterday shortly after noon brought eight fire trucks from four fire companies to the area for a three-hour battle to save nearby homes from destruction.

The fire began at 1:12 p. m., yesterday, in the grass and woods between Woodside avenue and the airstrip of the 3-M airport. Fanned by high winds the blaze raced across the unobstructed fields.

John Doster, chief of Edgely Fire Co. No. 1, reported that he discovered the fire. He rushed out and blew the Edgely fire whistle.

Two trucks from Edgely Fire Co. No. 1, Tullytown, and three trucks from Bristol borough answered the call to fight the fire.

There was no road through the field so equipment fought the blaze from the perimeters of the fields and were stationed at homes nearby that were endangered by the blaze.

The eight pieces of equipment and more than 60 men from the four companies fought the fire for more than three hours before it was extinguished.

No damage was reported to any of the nearby homes as a result of the fire but a wide section of field and woods was burned out, firemen reported. Cause of the blaze has not been determined.

During the course of the fire another fire call was received and one of the trucks was dispatched to 2419 First avenue, Edgely, the home of John Bradley, to fight a nearby grass blaze.

At 6:45 p. m., Edgely firemen were called to Miller avenue and Beaver Dam road to fight another grass fire.

THE BRASS DEPARTS

Presidents, of course, can pick and choose their aides to suit themselves. The late President Roosevelt believed in having high rank brass handy for military consultation at all hours of the day and night. A fleet admiral, William D. Leahy, finally became his principal coordinator between the White House and the military.

Mr. Truman had Maj. Gen. Harry Vaughan as confidant and adviser, but he was also the Army representative in the White House. The Air Force had a major general and a staff of lesser flying ranks stationed in the executive offices. The Navy had a rear admiral, plus a captain, a couple of commanders, and some junior officers.

It would be interesting to know what the Pentagon is reading into the choices made by President Eisenhower to fill the military slots in the White House office wing. The Army is represented by a lieutenant colonel, Robert L. Schultz, a relatively junior rank on the brass ladder. But the colonel has been with Mr. Eisenhower since 1945, and went with him to Columbia University and later to SHAPE. Colonel Schulz is a reservist who transferred to the regular Army in 1947.

The Air Force is represented by a mere major, William G. Draper, but there is more here than meets the eye. The major, a fine pilot who was also with the general at SHAPE, shows a penchant for making featherlight landings with the largest planes.

When the Navy was asked to send someone over, and told politely the ranks of its designate's opposite numbers, it put the finger on Commander Edward L. Beach, a crackerjack young submariner who has been known around the Pentagon as a "comer". In other words, his climb within the Navy hierarchy will be as rapid as the promotion rules allow. An author, athlete, and brilliant student, "Ned" Beach makes a good foil for the other young officers.

LOW RATING

Taxi drivers may be admired—or at least enjoyed—as conversationalists. Some people invite their blunt comments on the American scene whenever they have occasion to use a cab. But if cab drivers have a reputation of sorts as sages and commentators, they're not very popular as taxi drivers.

A survey just completed showed that cab drivers rate lowest of all in the categories of safety and courtesy. They were farther down the list than operators of private vehicles, who were placed well below truck and bus drivers. City motorists called taxis the second worst "annoyance" on the street—pedestrians were the worst.

Truck drivers were put at the top for safety and courtesy on the highway, with bus drivers second. In town bus drivers were given first place.

The son of Thomas Bye, Nathaniel, lived here and added to the house.

The house boasts what the late Dr. Henry C. Mercer claimed was the biggest fireplace he had ever seen. It is 15 feet long, and a man can stand upright inside of it.

Nathaniel Bye, though considered a friend, never formally joined the church. In fact, he was considered rather strange by other members of his family. He was a hunter and fur trader, and often disappeared for months at a time, on trading expeditions with the Indians. The tribe, the Lenni Lenape, adopted him.

"When I found and read his will," says Dr. Bye, "I discovered he was called a felonizer. The word fel is a word for felt. He was a very prosperous man."

When Nathaniel lay on his death bed, he requested members of his family to haul out an old sea chest and open it up. Up to that time, no one had known what was in it.

They discovered it contained a suit of armor. He requested the relatives to encase him in it, and when he died, he was buried in it. When he died, in 1748, he was buried in the Friends Meeting graveyard at Buckingham Friends grounds, on the hill only a mile from his home.

Dr. Bye went to George School, then to the School of Industrial Art in Phila. From there, he entered the University of Penna., Phila., and later spent a year at Oxford.

At Princeton University, Dr. Bye majored in art and archaeology and received a doctor's degree in the history of art.

"When I was in Paris one year, I met my wife, Mary C. Heldrin. She was the daughter of a prominent and well-to-do Dutch family. She was traveling and perfecting her languages. She spoke French and English, English almost as well as I do."

He said that "you can hardly take a bicycle ride in a European country without going outside the borders. For that reason, many Europeans are taught several languages, generally French, English and German."

"At the start, I didn't think I could make a good enough living just painting or restoring paintings. I was married and wanted to have a family. So I started out by considerably in excess of the rate of increase in resources which Italy can provide for employment during any period, necessitates dependence on large-scale emigration, payment of a dole to unemployed workers and careful allocation of investment among the several depressed areas within the country."

Of the two problems, the report says: "This latter is most important; despite great progress made since the war, Italy's standard of living remains considerably below that of any other major European country and the internal disparity between living standards in the North and in the South is very great. These two conditions—resource shortage and over population—ordinarily make it impossible for Italy to absorb the annual net accretion to the working force, with the prospect that large numbers of unemployed workers are likely to burden the Italian economy indefinitely."

The effect of the Korean war and Italy's NATO contribution on its economy is best illustrated by the sharply increasing deficits in prospect for the 1951-52, and 1952-53 financial years. The Italian deficit for the 1951-52 period jumped to 424 million lira, as contrasted with a 242 million lira deficit in the previous year, before the NATO commitment. In the 1952-53 period, the present estimate shows a 428 million lira deficit in view.

The economic report comments: "The substantial increase in the 1951-52 deficit which reversed the distinctly improved budget position of 1948-51 was due primarily to the greatly increased military and social requirements which followed the outbreak of the Korean War. Italy's obligation to undertake and to carry out, in part, a sizeable defense effort under the NATO program can be clearly seen in these figures."

The report found that the 1947 effort by the Einaudi government was successful in stabilizing the lira, and in leveling off prices, but that factors generated by the Korean war were a threat to this stability.

U. S. economic experts have "no reason to doubt" that the present government regime will continue its efforts to distribute financial and physical resources in a manner that has "raised the levels of production and the standard of living substantially above those of pre-war years."

Fire and a Deletion

tiffs, Solomon and Rose Feinstein, a deed within 20 days containing 80.775 acres with full possession.

The farm involved is the former Prothonotary John L. High's place on the Irish Meeting House-Kulp's Corner road, near Kulp's corner, north of Dublin.

President Judge Keller ruled that the plaintiffs, Solomon and Rose Feinstein pay to the defendants, William and Edna R. States, $8,000, being the balance of the purchase money and interest from July 6, 1948, to the date of delivery of the deed and possession.

The plaintiffs, the Feinstones, must reimburse the States for all payments made by them for taxes, fire insurance.

The Feinstones, the plaintiffs, are entitled to receive from the States, the defendants, for use and occupancy a rental value at the rate of $2,000 a year, from July 6, 1948, to Oct. 20, 1948, and at the rate of $1500 a year until the final date of settlement and conveyance.

The plaintiffs, Solomon and Rose Feinstein, June 5, 1948, entered into a written agreement for the purchase of a Bedminster township farm from the defendants, William and Edna States, for $27,500, less the amount of the existing first mortgage.

The plaintiffs paid $5,625 in cash. In October, 1948, the barn was destroyed by fire. The barn was covered by insurance policies issued in the name of the defendants, States. The defendants, the States, acquired the premises from Walter and Mary E. Craig July 7, 1945.

The premises were sold at absolute auction June 5, 1948, by Louis Traiman Auction Company to be sold subject to a mortgage of $25,000.

The plaintiffs, the Feinstones, purchased the farm for $37,500 less the mortgage of $25,000 and deposited $5,625.

"Possession shall be delivered at the time of the final settlement by deed and keys," was a phrase in the agreement.

The defendants, the States, July 8, 1948, were unable to give full possession of the farm because the defendants' farmer employee, a Mr. Chewing, occupied the farmer's cottage.

After the barn was destroyed by the fire, the plaintiffs, the Feinstones, and defendants, States, became active to settle the controversy.

The defendants, the States, wanted the agreement rescinded and cancelled and the plaintiffs, the Feinstones, demanded possession.

The barn was covered with fire insurance in the amount of $18,000, which insurance policies had been issued to the States.

On Nov. 4, 1948, the defendants, the States, retained the premises and operated them for their use.

The defendants, the States, since July 6, 1948, made payments on account of the reduction of the mortgage and interest and paid the fire premium insurance.

The plaintiffs' $8,000 representing the balance of the purchase

We interrupt this program...

When emergencies arise... such as a blizzard-blocked highway, a sudden flood, the need for a rare blood type at the local hospital... radio does a magnificent job of spreading the word, just as it does with less dramatic news.

But... how does word of the emergency get to the radio station?

By telephone... just as millions of other messages, urgent and otherwise, reach their destinations—day after day. By telephone... the line of communications that's seldom dramatic, yet always so dependable that it is taken for granted.

That's the way you, and we, want it to be.

EDDINGTON

A "sweetheart dance" is arranged for eight p. m., Saturday, in Eddington Fire Co. station.

Three Major Areas

and to provide added protection for the Pennsbury Manor grounds. A study is being made into the possible future beautification of lands bounded by the outermost perimeters of the lakes with a view toward using this land as park area. This phase of the survey, it is pointed out, would consider this project only on a long term basis, and it would be many years at best before this project became an actuality.

To provide park and play facilities for the use of residents of the Morrisville, Yardley, Lower Makefield section of the county, though they would be available for use of all county residents, a study will be made of the strip of land along the west bank of the Delaware. This strip would be roughly that lying between the canal and the river, extending from Washington Crossing Park southeastward along the river bank.

At the same time the study of these areas as potential sites of major recreational facilities is made, the Commission will continue with its present work of emphasizing the preservation of the natural drainage courses in the area.

These courses include, in the immediate area, Mill Creek and Queen Anne Creek which flow into Silver Lake near the site of the Lower Bucks County Hospital and from the lake into the Delaware river near Bristol borough. This preservation, according to Carl Wild, planning consultant, can become a factor which will result in a great saving in future drainage construction costs in the area.

RESCUE SQUAD CASES

A Croydon man, George Adamson, of Penn street and Lincoln avenues; and William Hoepfer, of W. Rockland street, Phila., were removed to Nazareth Hospital from the scene of an accident at Durham road, between Trenton avenue and the Lincoln Highway at 2.30 o'clock this morning according to Bucks County Rescue Squad. The squad reported that Adamson suffered bruises of both knees and Hoepfer suffered severe lacerations of the left hand. The Squad reports that yesterday they assisted at the birth of a daughter to Mrs. Aron Swinheart, of 159 Otter street. Assisting at the birth according to the Squad was a local physician. Oxygen was administered to Mrs. Howard Weisinger, of 911 Second ave., Croydon, according to report of the squad.

Mrs. Mary Basett was returned from Mercer Hospital, Trenton, to her home, Main st., Yardley, and Mrs. A. Mokes of 6 Schumacher dr., Bristol Terrace 1, was taken to Nazareth Hospital. The Squad reports the additional transportation: Mrs. Mary Curtis, of Christie and Maryland avenues, Croydon, to Hahnemann Hospital, Phila.; Alberta Vasey of 1524 Trenton avenue, Bristol, to Women's Hospital, Phila.; Mrs. Charles Stell, of Elm avenue, Morrisville, to her home from University of Pennsylvania Hospital, Phila.; Christine Kalis, of 25 Farm lane, Levittown, to Children's Hospital, and return to her home later in the day.

Opposed to Merger area since birth and an ardent reader of the newspaper during these many years, I question whether there is any governmental improvement resulting from the incorporation of Philadelphia or will be from the incorporation into a 'New Lower Bucks County City.' For years newspapers have been filled with articles on graft and inefficiencies which exist in this larger city of Philadelphia. One of the great American traditions, which is being lost at the present time because of this tendency to develop larger and larger cities, has been the loss of a direct control of the government. With more and smaller communities we have a larger number of people directly participating, either as municipal officials or actually helping to elect local citizens to local posts. There are fewer possibilities and less likelihood of graft and inefficiencies when it is possible for a citizen to directly contact their officials who also are their neighbors.

"3. Because I am secretary of the Falls Township School Board, and have been connected with schools all my life, I can see many other reasons why I am unalterably opposed to large patterns of government which result in large school systems. I have supported the Pennsbury Schools consolidation because it developed a school pattern for our area which permitted efficient school operation and better schools. I am opposed to consolidations which develop school systems the size of Philadelphia. These schools become more expensive due to the tremendous overhead and are less responsive to the needs of the people.

"A perfect example is New York City where today every effort is being made to decentralize the school system into many school systems. They are even trying to develop a pattern whereby the new 'neighbor' school systems will be able to set up their own tax rates and pay for the type of schools they consider desirable and are unable to achieve with 'large city systems.' The large school systems result in too much centralization, too much uniformity, and too little interest in the needs of a school community.

"4. As a citizen of Falls Township, I also have an interest in our municipal government, our tax rate, and our various modes and procedures which result in a pattern of government which is favorable to the citizens of Falls Township. I do not believe that the election of officials on the scale that they have to be elected in Philadelphia will result in better government for Falls Township. It has not been true in Philadelphia. It is unlikely that a new Lower Bucks County city would operate in any different fashion. I am somewhat selfish in my desire to see that Falls Township improve and become a better place for its citizens to live. This will not automatically result from a larger Bucks County community.

"It is possible for the citizens of any particular section of our township to meet our elected officials without difficulties and to talk on a 'grass root' level. We wish to continue that relationship. We are not interested in the 'Ward Boss' graft-ridden large city pattern which virtually ignores the people as has been true for many years in Philadelphia.

"5. Finally, I wish to note that most of the people moving into this area are doing so because they are unhappy with the large city. They certainly should not be thrown back to the 'wolves' because of the desire of the Philadelphia Housing Association to bring them down to the level of Philadelphia. It is suggested that the Philadelphia Housing Association contact the people of Sharon Hill, Upper Darby, Lower Merion, Chestnut Hill, Springfield Township, and other suburbs of Philadelphia and see whether they desire to be annexed to Philadelphia. Similarly, Trenton officials should clear the matter with Ewing, Lawrence, and Hamilton Townships to see how they would feel about being added to Trenton.

"The net result of such a survey would overwhelmingly throw out any 'large city' setup as propounded by the Philadelphia Housing Association. Because we know the suburban areas of Trenton or Philadelphia are not interested in a consolidation we are inclined to believe their experience is worth considering.

"We therefore wish to thank the Philadelphia Housing Association for their interest and suggest that they expend their energies on Philadelphia and permit us to work out our salvation. Such 'salvation' rests with the people of Lower Bucks and will develop in a pattern to satisfy our needs and not the needs of Philadelphia. We, in Falls Township, feel that we can meet and satisfy the problems with which we are faced."

power to lights in stores along the highway, Rentz said.

Chief Rentz and Officer Joseph Gallagher investigated.

A truck driven by Clarence Williams, an employee of Becker Farms, Bensalem twp., missed a curve on Street road about 1/2-mile south of the Lincoln Highway, about 10 o'clock last night and knocked down two utility poles, according to Chief of Bensalem twp. police George Rentz.

Rentz said that after William's truck knocked down the first pole the truck swerved out onto the roadway then hit another pole, bounced off, and knocked down a hedge. Rentz said about $500 damage was caused to the truck. Other damage was not estimated.

dition, there is 128 cubic feet of freezer space to be devoted exclusively to ice cream. This will enable Penn Fruit to bring its customers the largest selection of frozen foods and ice cream in this area," it is said.

A large self service bakery department will offer baked goods from Penn Fruit's own bakery. Fresh baked pies, cakes, pastries, breads, and other goodies will be delivered to the store twice daily. And adjoining this bakery department will be a self service candy department, offering a fine variety of chocolates and other candies.

Something relatively new in supermarkets will be introduced at the new Penn Fruit. A special snack bar will be set up with party foods and TV snacks, offering such unusual items as smoked oysters, shad roe, caviar and many other delicacies. This department will even display bottled smoke, which gives a smoked flavor to steak, cheese or any other foods on which it is used.

Large areas of the store will be devoted to purveying fresh produce, seafood poultry and meats. Penn Fruit has long been recognized in the Philadelphia area for bringing these perishable items to its customers at the peak of freshness. A vast amount of ice is used in the display cases of these items to keep them crisp and fresh until they are purchased, and for this reason a large ice making machine has been installed in the basement of the store, capable of producing a ton of ice every day.

The new market will employ approximately 250 people at the grand opening, most of which will be residents of Levittown and surrounding communities. Many full and part time positions are available in various types of work. Applications for employment may be made at the Pennsylvania State Employment Service in Bristol or Penn Fruit's Levittown market," said a spokesman.

Manor Development Corp., which proposes to build the homes, would install mains and connections at a cost of $176,000, but would be reimbursed by the borough through water rentals.

Kendall, before presenting his plan, warned council it should go slow in accepting proposals to supply water to new real estate developments. He said a survey had shown that the lower Bucks county building boom had reached a saturation point.

The councilman said there had been a decided drop in the last four months in the rate of construction in the area. He said several builders had left the field entirely.

The borough's 1953 budget, which has been criticized sharply by the Morrisville Taxpayers Ass'n, was adopted on final reading.

The measure totaling $165,794—$15,759 higher than last year—was called excessive in a statement read by John V. Sawyer, association president. The association contended the budget had increased 65 per cent in three years.

Sawyer contended council should use an increase in borough rentals to reduce the 15-mill tax rate under the budget to 13 mills. The association president also reiterated previous charges Council had failed to effect major borough improvements.

The charge on improvements drew fire from Kendall. He pointed an accusing finger at the association.

Happy Is The Day When Backache Goes Away . . .

Nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness may be due to slow-down of kidney function. Doctors say good kidney function is very important to good health. When some everyday condition, such as stress and strain, causes this important function to slow down, many folks suffer nagging backache—feel miserable. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up nights or frequent passages. Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills—a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. It's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief from these discomforts—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. tion delegation and called it a "pressure group."

Council President William Anderson told the association it had miscalculated on its percentage increase in the budget since 1951. He pointed out that Sawyer, for example, used a tentative $100,612 figure for the 1951 budget while actually the borough expended $151,979 in that year.

Only HUDSON, with the lowest center of gravity among American cars, can handle such tremendous power so safely!

HUDSON HORNET Four-Door Sedan

Come try the mighty power and matchless roadability of a Hudson

No other car can perform, or ride, or last like a Hudson because no other car has "STEP-DOWN" DESIGN.

Hudson is the best performing, safest car on the road today—but you needn't take our word for it. Just look at the record:

In 1952, competing with all other makes in stock-car events, Hudsons just like you can buy from us won 47 victories in 60 starts . . . and Hudson was named Champion in all three major racing associations!

Naturally, there's a reason for this record performance. And that reason is Hudson's exclusive "step-down" design . . . which provides the lowest center of gravity among American cars. That's why Hudson can handle its mighty power so safely.

For a new driving thrill . . . with the utmost in safety . . . try the fabulous Hudson Hornet, or its lower-priced running mate, the spectacular Hudson Wasp. Stop in soon!

TWIN H-POWER—Hudson's sensational new multiple-fueling system—and New Dual-Range Hydra-Matic Drive available at extra cost. Standard trim and other specifications and accessories subject to change without notice.

NEWS OF SCHOOLS IN AREA... New Hope Budget

All public, private and parochial schools in the Bristol area are invited to send news items for publication in this column which appears frequently.

Tullytown Borough

The 2nd, 3rd, 4th and 5th grades of Tullytown school recently gathered in Tullytown Fire Co. station to see a "movie." The topic was "Philadelphia Old and New," a film which tied in with this month's history lesson in all primary grades.

One hundred and forty children were present to enjoy this picture, with their teachers, Mrs. Berman, Miss Elsie Ettenger, Mrs. French and Mrs. Ruth Frank.

Perfect attendance for January (perfect attendance year to date): Grade one (Miss Faughnan): Edward Bergmann, Ronald Frith, Raymond Jenkins, James Liller, Ronald Metzler, Robert Owens, William Smith, Virginia Allen, Barbara Ann Brown, Carol Ann Brown, Dorothy Brown, Loretta Durante, Lenis Fritz, Laurel Kuhn, Carolyn Seidner, Marianne Spruhde.

Grade Two (Mrs. French): Russell Baker, William Baker, Michael Deckman, Peter Del Pietro, Stephen Hunt, Donald Kaiser, Cary Lind-

Science Knows Little

And one more: How to do something about it and keep you living. By hunch, horse-sense, a trial-and-error research program and some brilliant thinking, physicians have learned to attack the symptoms of hypertension and thereby to lessen its threat to life.

Doctors have devised salt-free diets that bring soaring pressures down. Researchers have crystallized drugs that do the same. Surgeons have developed safe operations that help.

But the single key to the problem, if there is one, probably was stumbled upon in Montreal 20 years ago when a young physician named Hans Selye was mystified by a mouse.

Dr. Selye injected some poison into his mouse. It developed a number of symptoms, including the signs of high blood pressure. He injected a harmless chemical into another mouse. Same result. He tried hormones. Again, high blood pressure. He forced a fourth to run all day long, a fifth to shiver. High blood pressure.

"I almost quit. I thought I was wasting my life studying the pharmacology of dirt," Dr. Selye recalls mournfully.

But the results had a pattern, and Selye found it. All the agents that produced high blood pressure could be reduced to a single word: stress.

The same stress that afflicts an executive who drives himself at top speed all day — or a man who is chronically mad at his wife — or the wife who is forever quarreling with her children.

Since then, scientists have traced the pattern part-way. Stress makes your adrenal glands work overtime, producing substances that make blood pressure jump. Other, more shadowy factors take part — a chemical called serotonin glides swiftly through the body tissue, another called angiotonin appears in the bloodstream.

The tiniest arteries in your body constrict, like the nozzle of a garden hose narrowing. The pressure in the big arteries behind them jumps.

And your heart, pumping against this increased pressure, eventually dilates, enlarges — and wears out fast, like a car running uphill all day long.

The last year, however, has brought dramatic changes in this picture. One drug, hexamethonium, offers great promise in reducing arterial pressure. It works most of the time, though it has troublesome side effects.

Another, apresoline, cut the blood pressure to near-normal in 57 of 97 test patients. A simple sulfur and hydrogen mixture called BAL was discovered to lower blood pressure, too. Its original use was combating Lewisite war gas — but scientists try everything.

Some of the projects sound like the herb-root concoctions of Macbeth's witches — but they work, too. There is hope that new drugs will come from extracts of the Hawthorne tree and from an Indian plant.

Surgeons have perfected an operation to sever the nerves that cause muscular arterial walls to constrict. That helps, too, some of the time, but there is no way yet to predict success or failure in advance.

Nor is there an easy cure for one factor: Our vaunted American high-pressure living. A dozen studies show that emotion — and hurried days and nights — affect blood pressure. In some people, long-lasting anxiety can lead to a progressive, death-dealing kind of hypertension.

Many hypertensive patients, fortunately, develop no progressive disease and live to a normal old age. They help themselves by slowing down and walking — not running — through life. The safest are those with low blood pressure, which rarely if ever causes harm.

The key, still, is serenity. One specialist told a patient not long ago:

"If you were as smart as your heart, you'd be a well man. Your heart puts in one second's rest for every second's work."

"You don't."

Desire for the Sanctuary PSALM 83

How lovely is your dwelling place,
O Lord of hosts!
My soul yearns and pines for the courts of the Lord.
My heart and my flesh cry out for the living God.
Even the sparrow finds a home, and the swallow a nest, in which she puts her young. Your altars, O Lord of hosts, my king and my God!

Happy they who dwell in your house!
continually they praise you.
Happy the men whose strength you are!
their hearts are set upon the pilgrimages;
When they pass through the arid valley,
they make a spring of it;
the early rain clothes it with generous growth.
They go from strength to strength;
they shall see the God of gods in Zion.

O Lord of hosts, hear my prayer;
hearken, O God of Jacob!
O God, behold our shield and look upon the face of your anointed.

I had rather one day in your courts
than a thousand elsewhere;
I had rather lie at the threshold of the house of my God than dwell in the tents of the wicked.

For a sure and a shield is the Lord God;
grace and glory he bestows;
The Lord withholds no good thing from those who walk in sincerity.
O Lord of hosts,
happy the men who trust in you.

LEVITTOWN, Feb. 11 — Number 5 Maple lane is a music studio.

Theodore Jack and his wife, Lorna, of that address, are both musicians, and give lessons in their home there. He is music teacher at Thomas Junior High School, Phila., and gives lessons here in all instruments. Mrs. Jack is a piano instructor.

The couple studied together at the Eastman School of Music of the University of Rochester, N. Y., and both performed in that city while studying. Mr. Jack played the oboe in the Rochester Philharmonic Orchestra, under the direction of Jose Iturbe.

Although Mr. Jack prefers classical music, he can boast of playing popular tunes two years with Elliott Lawrence's band. While in the Army during World War II, he played in the Greensboro, N. C., Air Base band. He is a native of Rochester.

Mrs. Jack, born in Phila., began her music early with lessons at the Settlement School. At the age of nine, she played in the Phila. Women's Symphony Orchestra. She is a former instructor of Twentieth Century Institute of Music, Phila., and appeared on a television program produced by the school.

As well as teaching music here and in Phila., Mr. Jack attends Temple University, where he is studying for a master's degree, and plays in shows in the city.

Susan Jack, 6½, and a second grader in Wistar Institute School, also has musical talents, but she doesn't take lessons here. Susan studies the piano under her mother's first teacher. The Jacks have a one-year-old son, Louis.

There's a Baldwin grand piano in the Jack's home, and also a large classical record collection. Mr. and Mrs. Jack also like art, and have collected several books on the subject. They're avid readers, too. He likes novels and she prefers non-fiction.

Jewish Brotherhood To Hold "Nat" Schwartz Night

LEVITTOWN, Feb. 11 — The Jewish Brotherhood of this community has designated next Monday as "Nat Schwartz night". At their meeting that night at eight o'clock they will honor Mr. Schwartz for his service as temporary chairman in the organization's formative months. There will also be a social program.

New members are invited to attend. Irving Olin is president of the Brotherhood. He and Mrs. Sylvia Morgenstein, president of the Levittown Jewish Sisterhood, with a fact-finding committee of both organizations, promoted a mass meeting in which it was decided to sponsor a Conservative type Synagogue community center here. On the committee were Leo Davne, Arnold Eisen, Saul Morenstein, Alan Corson, Benjamin Dickstein, Ben Rubin and Mrs. Florence Kopstein, Mrs. Celeste Appel, Mrs. Fay Kilnerman and Mrs. Lois Artz.

High School Girls Move Step Closer To The Championship

CORNWELLS HEIGHTS, Feb. 11.—Bristol High girls moved a step closer to the Lower Bucks County championship yesterday afternoon as they downed the Bensalem Township High lassies, 43-39, on the latter's court.

It was the fourth straight Lower Bucks County win for Coach Barbara Yerkes' team and its sixth consecutive win of the year.

The Bristol sextet fought an uphill battle to cop the win. Bensalem led at the recess period, 14-13. But Patricia Woodring put the Warriors in the lead at the start of the third period. From then on, Bristol failed to relinquish the edge.

Woodring hit for 12 points in the third period and tabbed 7 more in the last session to give her 23 points for the afternoon. Nancy Almond contributed 14 points with Janet Stephenson chipping in with 6. For Bensalem, Roberta Wetzel had 12 points, nine coming in the second half.

Coach Yerkes used 23 players in the Junior Varsity tilt between the schools but failed in her bid for victory. Bensalem won over the Bristol Jayvees, 29-26.

"Pat" Keller scored 11 points for the winning team with Eleanor Sanko dropping in 16 for Bristol. The loss made Bristol's mark 6 and 2 for the season.

Second-Half Rally Fails to Win Game

A second half rally by Delhaas High went for naught yesterday as Coach Stanley Dick's team bowed to Neshaminy High, 38-35, on the Rohm and Haas court.

Neshaminy had a 31-24 lead going into the final session when Delhaas rallied and came within three points of tying the score.

Al Hofmann was high for the winners with 12 points while Jim Bustraan had eight for Delhaas.

Football Coaches to Attend Clinic in Atlantic City

Anthony D'Angelo, football coach and Francis Gavas, assistant coach at Bristol high school, are planning to attend the National Football Coaches Clinic in Atlantic City, March 2, 3, 4, and 5.

Some 400 coaches of high, prep and college eleven will attend this sixth annual clinic. Setting for the sessions will be the municipal convention hall, world's largest. Clinic sessions will be held morning and afternoon with entertainment in the evenings.

The staff of instructors includes Lynn Waldorf, University of California; Jim Trimble and Vic Lindskog of the Philadelphia Eagles; Jim Tatum, University of Maryland; Steve Owen, New York Giants; Leo R. Meyer, Texas Christian; Bob King, coach at the University of Illinois; and John Boyd, Atlantic City High School.

In addition to the coaches, the staff will also include Dr. Alfred J. Cardall, noted psychologist, who will report on the great help that psychology can be to the coaches in getting their teams "ready."

The clinic is directed by Dr. Harry G. Scott, who inaugurated the annual program six years ago and has since presented a long list of the nation's leading football mentors and made it possible for other coaches to have the benefit of their views on fine points of the game.

Bristol Clips the Owls And Goes to One-Half Game from the Lead

Bristol High clipped the Bensalem Township Owls last night in a Lower Bucks County League match on the local floor. Final score was 72-52. It was the sixth league win for the Warriors, putting them one-half game behind the league-leading Pennsbury High quintet.

The triumph also boosted Bristol's record for the season to 11 wins and 5 losses. It evened Bensalem's mark at 6 and 6 for the season and 3 and 4 for league competition.

Accurate shooting by Harold Loud and Bob Strobele and outstanding defensive playing by Frank Manzo were the shining lights of the Bristol victory. Loud cut the cords for 27 points while Strobele accounted for 20, 10 of which were made in the final quarter. Manzo broke up many Bensalem plays and was the main cog in the Bristol passing system. In addition, the guard dropped in four beautiful set shots.

Bensalem gave the Warriors more than was expected until midway in the third quarter when the Bristol team began to pull away and compile its big margin.

During most of the first quarter it was a see-saw affair. Bristol failed to hold a 3-0 lead on Loud's foul and Russ Johnson's push-shot field goal. Bristol had a 7-6 lead when Frantz scored under the basket and the Owls took the lead. Manzo evened it with a foul and then put Bristol in front with a long set shot. Elliott knotted it at 10-10 but Whitcoe again put Bristol in the lead. Frantz's pair of fouls again deadlocked the score at 12-12. Manzo's long shot put Bristol ahead, 14-12, and this was Jim Tatum, University of Maryland; Steve Owen, New York Giants; Leo R. Meyer, Texas Christian; Bob King, coach at the University of Illinois; and John Boyd, Atlantic City High School.

At the start of the second quarter, Bensalem went in front, 15-14 on Elliott's goal. Bob Strobele scored his first two-point shot of the game to put Bristol ahead, 16-15. It was short-lived, however, for Frantz scored on a pivot shot. Strobele again gave Bristol the lead with a side field goal, 18-17. From then on, Bristol was never headed. At one stage, Elliott shaved the lead to 23-23 after Al Dominiani had scored a two-point shot.

After Manzo scored another longie to give Bristol a 40-32 edge, the score began to grow. At the end of the third quarter, Bristol led by a 50-40 score.

Bob Frantz and Strobele scored 17 points each for the losing team. Bristol had a nice night from the foul mark in sinking 10 of its 18 tries.

Bristol's Junior Varsity quintet was also victorious, beating Bensalem's Jayvees, 50-39, in the preliminary game.

Bensalem had its best opportunity to cut into the Bristol score in the third period when it had 15 free shots. It only converted six of these.

Marty Konefal had 20 points for Bristol while Johnny Perugini had 18 counters for Bensalem.

John McMeniman, son of Mr. and Mrs. John N. McMeniman, has been separated from the army, having served two years, one of which was in Heilbronn, Germany. He was separated at Indiantown Gap Camp and is now at home.

Donald Leitch was at home for mid-semester vacation, from Lehigh University, Bethlehem, last week.

G. Wilson Discusses

Lincoln, 9th district representative to National Council, Industrial Management Club; and William Holden, Bucks County district manager, Bell Telephone Co.

Wred Herman, vice-president, was in charge of entertainment. Addressing the group, he said: "Inasmuch that this is the 43rd anniversary of Boy Scouts we have invited them to put on a demonstration of some of the workings of the scouts." A short "movie," "Once a Scout," was also shown.

Local scouts gave a demonstration of investment of Cub Scouts and explorers, and Scouts of Order of the Arrow performed Indian dances.

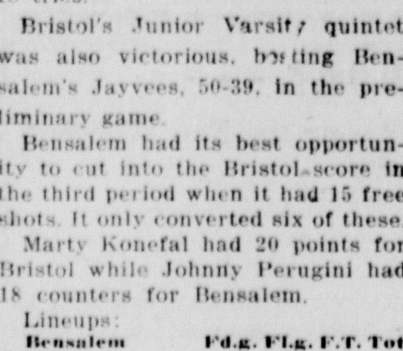

Eagle Scout Arnold Marsh stated: "Scouting was brought from across the ocean in 1910 and was the starting of the Boy Scouts of America. Scouting is the teaching of helping others, and you will find that very few scouts are ever found to be in trouble." He told of many activities in which scouts take part.

Marsh said: "The Boy Scouts need your help. They cannot continue without it. There are many ways that you can help the Scout movement. Scoutmasters and councilors are needed in all parts of scouting. So do your good turn daily by helping the Boy Scouts."

Mr. Lloyd announced that Clyde Betts was elected zone nine Industrial Management Club alternate representative to the National Council I. M. C. executive committee. Mr. Betts is the past president of Bucks Co. Club, which is sponsored by Lower Bucks Y. M. C. A.

Mr. Herman introduced the speaker. "Our speaker this evening is George B. Wilson, Northeast manager of Bell Telephone Co. and a former All-American half-back, a colonel in the U. S. Marines, and is well known for his civic activities." Mr. Wilson said: "The subject of human relations in management is one we can all afford to give more attention to. To give a few pointers on this, we know that certain basic areas in which we must operate are: A practical application of psychology in our everyday workings, and the other is doing things to help you get along better with your associates. Many of us fail to recognize the changes that have been made
